HAS DEBS BEEN MALIGNED?

Eugene V. Debs, President of the American Railway Union, is a very much maligned man, if he is to be taken by his own word in a speech delivered by him on Saturday night at Terre Haute.

Mr. Debs has been held for public reprobation as the arch-conspirator in the disastrous railway strike. For his share in the midsummer madness, from which the country is convalescing, he has been cartooned and caricatured, in the illustrated papers, and the corporation organs have been industrious in writing him down as an object for public contempt and derision. Even the physician, whose private patient he was, forgetful of what was due to medical ethics, had to tell the world that Debs had been under his treatment for alcoholism, thus degrading him in the eyes of his fellow-citizens everywhere. In fact, Eugene V. Debs has been venomously pilloried as the originator, moving spirit and dictator of the strike from its inception to its collapse.

The sympathetic railway strike was undoubtedly a very serious mistake. It has recoiled with disastrous effects upon all who took part in it, but Eugene V. Debs, though he cannot escape a large measure of the responsibility for its consequences, is not the man upon whom all the blame must be saddled. There is reason to believe that the proposition to strike did not originate with him, but, on the contrary, that he was opposed to the step. As President of the American Railway Union, the instant the Council resolved to declare war it devolved upon him to order the strike and act as its executive. The moment he pressed the button, however reluctantly he may have done so, he became the central figure in the subsequent drama.

In his Terre Haute speech to his neighbors on Saturday night Mr. Debs is quoted as saying that he did everything in his power to prevent the Pullman strike. He went still further when he declared that he was unalterably opposed to strikes and that he had no voice in ordering the one for which he has been so generally reviled. After all that has happened, this from him is something in the nature of a startling revelation. His closing statement to the effect that so far as he was concerned this would be the last strike in which he would engage is a confirmation of the man's true attitude in regard to strikes as a panacea for labor troubles. This resolve to fight out the battle along political lines, appealing to the ballot for the restitution of the laborers' rights, is a complete abandonment of his part of the folly of engaging in strikes if it be true that he at any time ever sanctioned that policy. If he represents the views of the organization of which he is still the chief functionary the announcement is a virtual proclamation that the American Railway Union will never engage in another strike, sympathetic or otherwise.—Stockton Mail.

DO NOT LIKE THE IDEA.

In Esmeralda County They are Solid for Silver.

The following is an extract from a private letter from a citizen of Esmeralda county:

"I received a circular from Reno relative to the formation of a genuine People's party. I do not like the idea. It may divide the people so that the State might possibly be carried by the gold combination. In this section we are solely silver men. We know no other party and the principles of free coinage are our guiding star. We care not if it be called the People's party or the Silver party or whether it is State or National, if it gives us free coinage. We want no division of our forces between Silvermen and Populists and thus give the enemy opportunity to defeat both. For my part I will vote for any party that is absolutely in favor of free coinage to defeat the Republican-Democratic gold combination. Both old parties have lied so often on the silver question that neither can be believed, and no confidence can be placed in their promises." The writer of the above is an old resident of Hawthorne. He is a sincere advocate of the silver cause and does not want any disaffection in the ranks of the silver men. He wants the Silver men of the State to present an unbroken front to the enemy, and does not care for the name of the party so long as its principles are sound. There are many genuine silver men in the state who, like our Esmeralda friend, are actuated by no other motives than the success of the silver cause. That is the paramount issue, though there may be others of considerable importance to the State and Nation. Let the silver men nominate an unexceptional ticket and the People's party will certainly endorse it in their convention and at the polls.

The Michigan Republicans have adopted a plank that pledges the party to do all in its power to restore silver as a money metal. The plank however does not come out strong and square like the California plank and adopt the 16 to 1 ratio. When a Platform Committee means business it talks in the Nevada and Colorado way and talks in the 16 to 1 clause. Any plank with that clause left out is only intended to hood-wink voters.

The Republican programme now is to nominate Newlands for Congress, and if he declines, as he certainly will, they will pass the nomination and run none for Congress. Just what they will do with the balance of the ticket no one knows, as no one seems to be seeking a nomination on the Republican ticket this year.

The Chinese are now strutting about the town as if they owned it, all because of the recent victories of the Chinese land forces over the Japs.

Truth About the Strike.

President Gompers of the Federation of Labor has an able article in the August "North American Review" and "Federationist" concerning the Pullman and A. R. U. strike. It reviews the cause and justifies the strikers. Every man whose capital consists of brains and muscles, and who aims at an honest living, should read these articles. It costs just half as much as a cigar and does not "end in smoke."

People who contemplate a trip to the mountains for an outing, do not do better than pack up and go to the Rubicon Springs. The best way to reach the Springs is by McKinney's Lake Tahoe, thence by stage eight miles, through a wild and picturesque country. Vade Clarke the proprietress, has made a number of improvements and the place is more attractive than ever before.
